Learn the fundamental principles of plant form, focusing on developmental dynamics, evolutionary diversification, and ecophysiological function during this immersive short course sponsored by the Arnold Arboretum of Harvard University and New Phytologist Trust.

Plant Morphology

2020 Short Course in Organismic Plant Biology

June 8 - 19, 2020

The Arnold Arboretum of Harvard University

Boston, MA

Accepting Applications from:

- advanced undergraduates
- graduate students
- postdocs

12 applicants are selected for this intensive course which includes daily lectures and lab sessions. No classes scheduled on weekend.

Instructors:

Pam Diggle (University of Connecticut)

Peter Endress (University of Zurich)

William Friedman (Harvard University)

Cynthia Jones (University of Connecticut)

Apply Online by March 15th

https://www.arboretum.harvard.edu/education/summer-short-course/

No Course Fees

Lodging and weekday meals provided.

Funding available for participant travel.