Biographical Note

Stephanne (Silvia) Barry Sutton, also S.B. Sutton, was the author of biographies of the Arnold Arboretum's first director, Charles Sprague Sargent, and of the plant explorer, Joseph Rock, who had a long affiliation with the Arboretum. A writer of fiction as well as biography and history, Ms. Sutton was on the staff of the Arboretum from 1963 to 1974.

Born in Ohio in 1940, Sutton was raised in upstate New York and graduated from Wells College in Aurora, New York. After a brief stint as a writer at the United Nations in New York, she joined the Arboretum staff as a business secretary and secretary to the director, Richard A. Howard. As Howard's secretary Sutton was aware of his attempt to find a suitable author to write a biography of Charles Sprague Sargent in time for the Arboretum's centennial in 1972. Sutton proceeded to resign her position at the Arboretum but, added a postscript to her letter of resignation stating, as recounted by Howard, "that she would like to stay around and do the job he had in mind ... [and] I accepted this audacious suggestion." In 1970, two years ahead of deadline, Harvard University Press published *Charles Sprague Sargent and the Arnold Arboretum* by S.B. Sutton.

During her research Sutton sought out and received copies of many of Sargent's early letters, especially those written from Holm Lea his family estate where he conducted Arboretum business prior to the construction of the Hunnewell Administration building in 1892. Her thoroughness and organization of these early records was an invaluable contribution in the creation of the Arboretum's Archive in 1984 and her diligent work continues to provide an important, accessible resource for researchers.

Ms. Sutton was also the author of *The Arnold Arboretum: the First Century*, with a forward by Walter Muir Whitehill, Arnold Arboretum, 1971. As an Honorary Research Fellow of the Arboretum, she researched the life and work of Joseph Rock, which culminated in her book, *In China's Border Provinces: the Turbulent Career of Joseph Rock, Botanist-Explorer*. Hastings House, 1974.

Stephanne Sutton went on to write a history of Cambridge: *Cambridge Reconsidered: 3 1/2 Centuries on the Charles*, M.I.T. Press, 1976 and wrote two institutional histories: *The Massachusetts General Hospital, 1955-1980*. Little, Brown, 1983 and *Crossroads in Psychiatry: A History of the McLean Hospital*. American Psychiatric Association, 1986. Sutton predeceased her husband Imre Halasz (1926-2003), an architect and professor at the Massachusetts Institute of technology. Her only novel, The Day the Televisions Stopped was published by Knopf in 1992.
