Historical Note

Cynthia Jensen served as Director of Capital Projects at the Arnold Arboretum from 2005-2010. Jensen's areas of expertise include program management, budget management, and strategic planning. Prior to joining the Arboretum, she worked for the African Wildlife Foundation and the World Wildlife Fund. Among her contributions to the Arboretum was managing construction of the Weld Hill Research and Administration Building, the institution's first "green" building. She was also tasked with the preparation of the Institutional Master Plan (IMP).

The IMP was created in order to fulfill the requirements of the Boston Redevelopment Authority in order to construct the Weld Hill Research Building. The IMP process allowed and solicited input of surrounding neighbors, community groups, City agencies, and other interest groups as the Arboretum began the process of developing and implementing its long range plans. The IMP also required the creation of a Cultural Resources Management Plan (CRMP) which identified the character-defining features within the Arboretum. These consist of the features that contribute to the landscape's historic character that are historically significant and over 50 years of age and any individual features identified in the Arnold Arboretum National Register Nomination.

The collection materials were gathered from 2004-2010 and document the creation of the IMP. Topics covered in the material include Arboretum history, boundaries, living collections, planting plans, agreements with the City of Boston, Boston

Redevelopment Authority discussions, Boston Parks and Recreation Department approvals, rezoning issues, public comments, and the Arboretum's cultural heritage and other natural and manmade resources.

Scope and Content

The collection accounts for the steps and revisions needed to produce the approved IMP and includes correspondence (mostly email), copies of legal documents, articles, notes, maps, meeting agendas and minutes, and photographs.

Arrangement

The collection is arranged in one series containing 31 folders organized by subject in two boxes.
